

Reimagine | ANU College of Engineering, Computing and Cybernetics

Strategic intent 2021-2025

Conducting research that transforms society and creates national capability Delivering a student experience equal to the world's best

Strengthening our national mission and meeting our unique responsibilities

ANU 2025

Being a standard-bearer for equity and inclusion

A selection of embodied metrics and actions

Student employability

Provide world-leading work integrated learning and employability opportunities.

Indigenous representation

Increase by 10 times in Indigenous representation.

Increase women faculty and students

Increase percentage of women faculty and students to at least 40%.

Research income

Increase diversity and scale of income. Participation in all national level centre schemes.

External recognition

Improve recognition of impact and quality of our research nationally and internationally.

Industry collaboration

Co-location space for multi-sector collaborations and partnerships (to 9% of footprint).

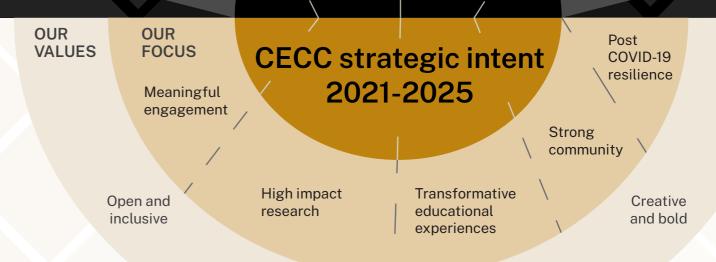

Transformation

Continuous improvement that spans College's full suite of activities.

Strengthen alumni engagement

Increasing alumni connection proportion to more than 60%.

For the complete CECC Strategic intent and metrics, visit cecs.anu.edu.au/reimagine.

We will serve society through our teaching, research, and engagement. Meaningfully impactful

We will measure our achievements by the positive difference they make in the world.

Our work will affect how people live — shaping societies, governments, and technologies.