Important things to keep in mind when choosing your 1000-level courses

- When you enrol for the first time you will typically study '1000-level' courses. These courses have '1' as the first number in their course code, such as COMP1100.
- You need to enrol in courses for both First Semester and Second Semester noting that you can change your Semester 2 courses anytime until July.
- You can't study more than four courses (24 units) per semester (eight courses per year)
- International students cannot study less than 24 units a semester.
- You may take 1000-level courses at any time in your program remembering:
 - for a single degree you can't count more than ten 1000-level courses (60 units)
 - for a double degree you can only count six 1000-level courses (36 units) towards your BCOMP half of the double degree.

Choosing your first year programming courses

- For your first year programming courses you have a choice of COMP1100 or COMP1130 in Semester 1, followed by, COMP1110 or COMP1140 in Semester 2.
- The standard courses are COMP1100/1110 but if you have a strong maths background, and/or significant programming experience, you should choose COMP1130/1140.
- If you choose COMP1130 and it is the wrong level for you, you will be able to transfer to COMP1100 within in the first 2 weeks without penalty.

Majors and Minors

See available majors and minors for this program

You have the option to complete a major as a part of your BCOMP degree. Note that only BCOMP degrees with a major in Information Systems, Software Development or Cyber Security will receive Australian Computer Society Accreditation.

Study Options
Year 1 48 units	COMP1100 Programming as Problem Solving 6 units OR COMP1130;	MATH1005 Discrete Mathematical Models 6 units	Computing Elective 6 units	University Elective 6 units
	COMP1110 Structured Programming 6 units OR COMP1140;	COMP1600 Foundations of Computing 6 units	Computing Elective 6 Units	University Elective 6 units
Year 2 48 units	COMP2100 Software Design Methodologies 6 units	COMP2300 Computer Organisation and Program Execution 6 units	COMP2420 Introduction to Data Management, Analysis and Security 6 units	University Elective 6 units
	COMP2120 Software Engineering 6 units	COMP2310 Systems, Networks, and Concurrency	COMP3600 Algorithms 6 units	University Elective 6 units

ANU STUDENT SAFETY AND WELLBEING

Free and confidential support for a range of issues that can impact on the student experience – transition to university and Canberra, relationship issues, domestic and intimate partner violence, financial concerns, mental health concerns, navigating ANU processes and much more ...

Centralised, trauma-informed first contact point for anyone impacted by sexual assault and / or sexual harassment

Case Managers have backgrounds in social work, human services and counselling.

Appointments available Monday to Friday

Students firstly supported and assessed through an intake process

FACTORS IMPACTING UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

- Academic pressures – high expectations, increased competition, uncertainty on employment outcomes
- Financial pressures – particular for students living away from home, those from low socio-economic backgrounds or limited income
- Relocation to participate in education leading to isolation particularly for international students, rural and remote students, etc
- General wellbeing issues – poor diet, alcohol and drug use, lack of sleep
- Pre-existing/underlying conditions can be exacerbated
- Low levels of help seeking behaviours

IMPACT ON STUDIES

- 71.8% of students aged 16-25 years reported that there had been at least one day when they were totally unable to work or study due to symptoms of mental health problems in the past month.
- 62.4% of students aged 26-50+ years reported that there had been at least one day when they were totally unable to work or study due to symptoms of mental health problems in the past month.
- Lower grades
- Increase risk of disengaging with studies

2016 NTS Student Wellbeing Survey <https://www.headspace.org.au/assets/Uploads/headspace-NUS-Publication-Digital.pdf>

Mental health and wellbeing in the community

- Two in five (43.7%) Australians aged 16 – 85 years experienced a mental health disorder at some time in their life.
- Two in five (39.6%) people aged 16 – 24 experienced a mental health disorder within the last 12 months
- Anxiety was the most common disorder reported (PTSD, OCD, GAD, social phobia and panic disorder)
- One in seven (13.6%) people aged 16-24 years and more than one in ten (11.0%) people aged 25-34 years reported an affective disorder within the last 12 months
